9. Definition of the core of Adventist education at all levels and ensure alignment with AAA and HIS criteria, with latitude beyond threshold requirements; and
10. Development of a statement describing the biblical basis for Seventh-day Adventist education.
10a. Statement describing the biblical basis for Seventh-day Adventist education

Education, viewed in the context of the great conflict between good and evil, is a ministry involving the home, church and school. In the highest sense the work of education and the work of redemption are one. Seventh-day Adventist education is a divine imperative, not a privileged option, and it is at the core of God’s redemptive processes. In God’s ideal all His people should experience the transforming power of Christ-centered education.
10b. Statement describing the biblical basis for Seventh-day Adventist education (continued)

Such education is the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, the emotional, the social, and the spiritual powers. It addresses the whole person in a wholistic manner and extends through the whole period of existence open to human beings, including eternity. Its aim is to cultivate in students character that exemplifies principles of love, grace, truth, obedience, honor, integrity, justice, diligence, and purity that will make them effective disciples of Jesus and a positive force for the stabilization, edification, and uplifting of society.
10c. Statement describing the biblical basis for Seventh-day Adventist education (continued)

The source of this education has as its foundation the Word of God. Godliness, that is, godlikeness, is its goal. Every human being is created in the image of God and endowed with a power similar to that of the Creator—individuality and power to think and to do. True education is designed to develop this power, to cultivate thinkers who are not mere reflectors of other people’s thoughts. Seventh-day Adventist education provides a sustained and transformational environment that attempts to turn human beings from their self-serving, destructive lifestyle tendencies to a life lived in harmony with God’s highest ideals for humanity.
10d. Statement describing the biblical basis for Seventh-day Adventist education (continued)

To these ends Seventh-day Adventist education compels the involvement of families, church members and leaders, and educators who believe that all true knowledge and genuine development have their source in God. They collaborate to serve under the power of God, in the wisdom of Christ, and by the guidance of the Holy Spirit. They seek to inspire in students a passionate commitments to the message and global mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, leading them to reach the highest standards in spiritual intelligence and academic achievement as they prepare for unselfish service.
10e. Statement describing the biblical basis for Seventh-day Adventist education (continued)

They are committed to modeling and providing to students paths of continuous progress in academic, physical, mental, emotional, social, and spiritual expansion, advancing them as fast and as far as possible as responsible members of the Church, and citizens of this world and the world to come.
10f. Statement describing the biblical basis for Seventh-day Adventist education

This statement is based on and draws largely from True Education, an adaptation of Education by Ellen G. White, along with the Fundamental Beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Its scriptural support includes: Ps. 119:105; Prov.30:5,6; John 17:16-17; Ps. 19:1-6; Ps. 33:6,9; Ps. 32:8-9; Gen. 2:7; John 3:16; Rom. 1:3-4; Eph. 2: 4-10; 2 Pet. 1:5; 2 Pet. 3: 18; Eph. 2:8-10; Eph. 6:4; Rom. 12: 1-2; 2 Pet. 3:13; Deut. 6:6-9; Deut. 11:19; 2 Tim. 2:15; 2 Tim. 3:15,16; James 1:5, James 3:1; Eccl. 7:12; Jer. 3:17, Jer. 33:2-3; Col. 2:8; Col. 3:16; Dan. 1:17; Tit. 2:7-8; Prov. 16:16; Prov. 18:15; Prov. 4: 13; Prov. 9:10; Prov. 16:3; Prov. 22:6; Prov. 23:12; Isa. 54:13.

You shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes.’” Deut. 6:6-8 (NKJ) “Brethren and sisters, what will you do to help build a church school? We believe that it is a privilege and a blessing to have this school building. Let us catch the spirit of the work, saying, “We will arise and build.” If all will take hold of the work unitedly, we shall soon have a schoolhouse in which from day to day our children will be taught the way of the Lord.

As we do our best, the blessing of God will rest upon us. Shall we not arise and build?” 3SM 213
“Not only should a humble house of worship be erected, but all necessary arrangements should be made for the permanent establishment of the school….In the basement of the church, above ground, I was shown a room provided for a school where the children could be educated in the truths of God’s word.”6 T 108
“While we should put forth earnest efforts for the masses of the people around us and push the work into foreign fields, no amount of labor in this line can excuse us for neglecting the education of our children and youth.” CPT 165
“In all our churches there should be schools, and teachers in these schools who are missionaries.” CT 168
