IN ACTION

KATIA GARCIA REINERT

The essence of the health message is very well presented in this book by Dr. Katia Reinert. I was very excited about her focus on connecting the biblical health message to the fulfillment of the Adventist cross-cultural mission. This book is a precious and comprehensive resource for strengthening our spiritual life and especially our commitment to God's mission.

Pr. Erton Kohler | President, General Conference

Dr. Reinert offers cross-cultural tools to assist any front-line mission worker in effectively and wholistically sharing the gospel, regardless of the culture or context.

Dr. Rick McEdward, D.I.S. | Secretary, General Conference

This comprehensive study offers a biblically grounded, theologically rich, and remarkably balanced perspective on the intersection of faith, health, and intercultural mission. With scholarly depth and a practitioner's insight, Dr. Reinert brings fresh solutions to long-standing issues, making this not only the best study on the subject but an essential resource for anyone engaged in cross-cultural ministry, global health, or theological education.

Dr. Jiri Moskala, PhD | Dean, SDA Theological Seminary, Andrews University

Dr. Reinert presents a unique and comprehensive health study in a book unlike any before. I recommend this book to all health practitioners and Christians who are called to cross-cultural service in diverse societies and living world faiths and traditions.

Dr. Oscar Osindo, PhD | Director, Institute of World Mission, General Conference

I highly recommend this book as an essential and comprehensive textbook for Seventh-day Adventist health professional education, health professionals, and those in local church health ministries.

Dr. Lisa Beardsley-Hardy, PhD, MPH | Director of Education, General Conference
